The U.S. Department of State's Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship Program enables students of limited financial means to study or intern abroad, providing them with skills critical to our national security and economic prosperity. Gilman Scholarship broadens the student population that studies and interns abroad by supporting undergraduates who might not otherwise participate due to financial constraints. The program aims to encourage students to study and intern in a diverse array of countries or world regions. The program also encourages students to study languages, especially critical need languages (those deemed important to national security). The deadline to apply is October 6, 2022!

Meet Reese Peck
Gilman Recipient
London, UK

"Being a Gilman Recipient has undoubtedly enhanced my study abroad experience, and I am encouraging everyone eligible for Gilman to apply! With the Gilman Scholarship, I can thoroughly enjoy studying abroad and focus on living in the moment, making memories with friends, and exploring without having overarching anxiety about financing my adventures. Additionally, the Gilman community has opened international doors for me, and I know that if I ever wish to live and work abroad, the Gilman Alumni living abroad are there for me in every corner of the globe."

BEYOND

STUDY ABROAD PODCAST

Tune in for this week's BeyOND Study Abroad Podcast episode, "All About The Applications". Ainsley interviews a member of the study abroad team who shares advice on choosing a study abroad program, what to cover in your application essay, how to estimate the costs of studying abroad and more! Ainsley shares some of her personal experiences as well.

Study in São Paulo

São Paulo is the largest city in Brazil, the epicenter of the Brazilian economy, and one of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world. It is located in the center of Brazil and is easily accessible to popular tourist destinations in the country such as Rio de Janeiro, Foz do Iguaçu, and Salvador. Students accepted to the São Paulo Business Track will study at Fundação Getúlio Vargas, FGV EAESP, which is the most prestigious, AACSB-accredited business school in the country. Students may take courses in Finance, Marketing, Business Analytics, Management, the Brazilian and Global Economy, and more – all taught in English. No Portuguese language proficiency is required to study abroad at FGV.

Study in Portugal

In this new summer study abroad program, students will have a first-hand experience of Portugal's history of migration, immigration, slavery, faith, and diverse cultural ethnicities. Portugal is the country where all the voices of the Lusophone world meet, where history is not just past, but a constant dialogue present in today's culture and daily life. This program will allow students to experience the diverse communities, cultures, and traditions that contribute to the development of Portugal as a European multicultural country. It will provide a unique experience in Lisbon, where students will be able to visit not only Roman ruins, Catholic churches, and cathedrals, but also learn about food, music, social integration, and the arts in contemporary Portugal.
